DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff David Popik, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated 2 (collectively "Plaintiffs"), allege the following upon information and belief based 3 upon investigation of counsel and published reports, except to his own acts, which 4 he alleges upon personal knowledge:

5 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

- 6 1. This Court has diversity jurisdiction over this class action pursuant to 28 7 U.S.C. § 1332 as amended by the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005 because 8 the matter in controversy exceeds $5,000,000, exclusive of interest and costs, 9 and is a class action in which some members of the class are citizens of 10 different states than the Defendants. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A).
11 2. This Court also has personal jurisdiction over Defendants because Defendants 12 are authorized to do business, and currently do business, in this state.
13 3. Venue is proper in this jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because 14 Defendant Apple Inc. is headquartered in this District and is subject to 15 personal jurisdiction and a substantial portion of the conduct complained of 16 herein occurred in this District.

17 PARTIES

- 18 4. Plaintiff David Popik ("Plaintiff") is an individual residing at all times 19 mentioned herein in the County of Los Angeles, State of California.
20 5. Defendant Apple Inc. ("Apple") is a California corporation with its 21 headquarters and principle place of business in Cupertino, California.
22 6. Defendant AT&T Mobility LLC ("AT&T") is a Delaware corporation with its 23 principle place of business in Atlanta, Georgia. AT&T maintains extensive 24 contacts with the State of California, including significant business operations 25 in the billions of dollars, tens of thousands of employees, and hundreds of 26 retail stores.
27 7. The acts alleged in this complaint that have been committed by Defendants 28 were authorized, ordered or done by their officers, agents, employees or

1 representatives while actively engaged in the management of the Defendants' 2 businesses.

3 8. The true names and capacities of the Defendants sued herein as DOE 4 DEFENDANTS 1 through 10, inclusive, are currently unknown to Plaintiffs, 5 who therefore sue such Defendants by fictitious names. Each of the 6 Defendants designated herein as a DOE is legally responsible for the unlawful 7 acts alleged herein. Plaintiffs will seek leave of Court to amend this 8 Complaint to reflect the true names and capacities of the DOE Defendants 9 when such identities become known.

10 9. At all relevant times, each and every Defendant was acting as an agent and/or 11 employee of each of the other Defendants and was acting within the course of 12 scope of said agency and/or employment with the full knowledge and consent 13 of each of the other Defendants. Each of the acts and/or omissions 14 complained of herein were alleged and made known to, and ratified by, each 15 of the other Defendants.

16 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

17 10. This action concerns the purchase by Plaintiff of an iPhone 4 manufactured by 18 Apple, and sold at retail through Apple, AT&T, and a limited number of other 19 retailers. The iPhone 4 is available in the United States exclusively for use 20 with an AT&T cellular service account. The iPhone 4 sold in the United 21 States is locked to AT&T as a carrier and cannot be used with any other 22 cellular service provider.

23 11. Apple announced the iPhone 4 at its Word Wide Developers Conference 24 ("WWDC") on June 7, 2010 during the keynote address by Apple's CEO, 25 Steve Jobs ("Jobs").

26 12. One of the key points emphasized by Jobs was the new design of the iPhone 27 4, along with the "brilliant engineering" of its antenna system and its 28 "extraordinary build quality."

2 13. More specifically, Jobs stated the following regarding the antenna system 3 during the keynote:

4 Now, because there have been a few photos around, people have asked, 5 what's this? What are these lines? These don't seem like Apple. Well, 6 it turns out, there's not just one of them, there's three of them. And they 7 are part of the structure of the phone — the stainless steel band is the 8 structure of the phone. These is some brilliant engineering — we use 9 that stainless steel band as part of the antenna system. It's got 10 integrated antennas right in the structure of the phone — it's never been 11 done before and it's really cool engineering. Stainless steel for 12 strength. Glass on the front and back. Integrated antennas, and 13 extraordinary build quality.

14 14. The reality is, however, that this "brilliant" antenna system suffers from a 15 significant defect.

16 15. Plaintiff purchased iPhone 4 on the date of its release.

17 16. After using the iPhone 4, Plaintiff realized that the product was in fact 18 defective and Apple has now acknowledged this defect. As is now being 19 reported on various internet websites and blogs, when the iPhone 4 is held in 20 a normal grip using the left hand, the phone suffers significant cellular signal 21 degradation. Some reports have attributed this to the "line" on the left side of 22 the phone separating the WiFi and Cellular antennas being shorted by being 23 in contact with the user's skin, although this explanation has not been 24 confirmed by Apple. (See Exhibit A attached hereto)

25 17. Although this is a significant defect, leading to a degradation and loss of the 26 iPhone 4's primary functionality, namely, use as a cellular telephone, 27 according to internet reports when a user e-mailed Jobs asking "What's going 28 to be done about the signal dropping issue. Is it software or hardware?" Jobs

- 1 wrote back stating "Non issue. Just avoid holding it in that way." (See Ex. A)
- 2 18. The same internet reports state that using with iPhone 4 in conjunction with
- 3 Apple's "bumper," which is sold separately for $29, completely eliminates
- 4 this issue. (See Ex. A).
- 5 19. Apple's apparent official response to these reports states: "Gripping any
- 6 phone will result in some attenuation of its antenna performance with certain
- 7 places being worse than others depending on the placement of the antennas.
- 8 This is a fact of life for every wireless phone. If you ever experience this on
- 9 your iPhone 4, avoid gripping it in the lower left corner in a way that covers
- 10 both sides of the black strip in the metal band, or simply use one of many
- 11 available cases" (See Ex. A)
- 12 20. At no point prior to purchasing the iPhone 4 was Plaintiff informed by any
- 13 Defendant that in order to use his phone without suffering significant signal
- 14 degradation he would either 1) have to hold his phone in an unnatural position
- 15 or 2) purchase Apple's "bumper" which covers that location.
- 16 21. Plaintiff has suffered damages in that he now owns a phone for which he is
- 17 required to purchase a "bumper" or hold the phone at an unnatural position in
- 18 order to use it without significant signal degradation. Further, Plaintiff has
- 19 further suffered damages in that he has spent time, effort and money in
- 20 acquiring the new phone, entering into a new two-year contract with AT&T,
- 21 and transferring data and applications to his new phone, only to be now
- 22 informed that it is defective.

23 CLASS DEFINITIONS AND CLASS ALLEGATIONS

- 24 22. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of himself, on behalf of all others
- 25 similarly situated, and on behalf of the general public, and as members of the
- 26 class or subclasses (collectively referred hereafter as the "Class") defined as
- 27 follows:

28 (1) California Class: The class that Plaintiff seeks to represent ("the California Class”) consists of all persons who are citizens or residents of California and purchased an iPhone 4. Excluded from the class are Defendants, any parent, subsidiary, affiliate, or controlled person of Defendants, as well as the officers and directors of Defendants, and the immediate family member of any such person. Also excluded is any judge who may preside over this case, and such judge’s immediate family and courtroom staff.

(2) Nationwide Class: The class that Plaintiff seeks to represent (“the Nationwide Class”) is defined to include all persons who purchased an iPhone 4 in the United States. Excluded from the class are Defendants, any parent, subsidiary, affiliate, or controlled person of Defendants, as well as the officers and directors of Defendants, and the immediate family member of any such person. Also excluded is any judge who may preside over this case, and such judge’s immediate family and courtroom staff.

23. Specifically excluded from the proposed Class are Defendants, any entities in which Defendants have a controlling interest, the officers, directors, affiliates, legal representatives, successors, subsidiaries and/or assigns of Defendant, the judge or judges presiding over this action, the presiding judge’s immediate family members, and the presiding court’s clerks and staff.
24. This action is brought and may be properly maintained as a class action pursuant to the provisions of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(1)-(4) and 23(b)(1)-(3). This action satisfies the numerosity, typicality, adequacy, predominance and superiority requirements of those provisions.
25. [Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1)] The Class is so numerous that the individual joinder of all of its members is impractical. While the exact number and identities of Class members are unknown to Plaintiff at this time and can only be ascertained through appropriate discovery, Plaintiff is informed and

1 believes the Class includes well over 1 million of members. Plaintiffs allege 2 that the Class may be ascertained by the records maintained by Defendants in 3 that each original purchaser of the iPhone 4 could only have purchased them 4 through an Apple Store, an AT&T store, or through limited retail outlets.
5 Further, each original purchaser would have been required to either enter into 6 a new contract or renew an existing contract as part of the purchase process.

7 26. [Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2)] Common questions of fact and law exist as to all 8 members of the Class which predominate over any questions affecting only 9 individual members of the Class. These common legal and factual questions, 10 which do not vary from class member to class member, and which may be 11 determined without reference to the individual circumstances of any class 12 member, include, but are not limited to, the following:

- 13 (a) Whether Defendants had a duty disclose the product defect;
- 14 (b) Whether representations made by Defendants were false or had a 15 tendency to deceive;
- 16 (c) Whether the product is, indeed, defective;
- 17 (d) Whether Defendants' conduct violates the CLRA or other laws;
- 18 (e) Whether Defendants' conduct is "unfair" under Section 17200;
- 19 (f) Whether Defendants' advertising is misleading;
- 20 (g) Whether Defendants breached their implied warranty;
- 21 (h) Whether Defendants' knew of the product's defect at the time it 22 advertised and sold the product;
- 23 (i) Whether Defendants violated the Song-Beverly Act;
- 24 (j) Whether, as a result of Defendants' misconduct, Plaintiff and the 25 Class are entitled to damages, restitution, equitable relief and other 26 relief, and the amount and nature of such relief.

27 27. [Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3)] Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the 28 members of the Class. Plaintiffs and all members of the Class have sustained

1 injury and are facing irreparable harm arising out of Defendants' common 2 course of conduct as complained of herein. The losses of each member of the 3 Class were caused directly by Defendants' wrongful conduct as alleged 4 herein.

5 28. [Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(4)] Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the 6 interests of the members of the Class. Plaintiffs have retained attorneys 7 experienced in the prosecution of class actions, including complex consumer 8 and mass tort litigation.

9 29. [Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3)] A class action is superior to other available methods 10 of fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy, since individual 11 litigation of the claims of all Class members is impracticable. Even if every 12 Class member could afford individual litigation, the court system could not.
13 It would be unduly burdensome to the courts in which individual litigation of 14 numerous issues would proceed. Individualized litigation would also present 15 the potential for varying, inconsistent, or contradictory judgments and would 16 magnify the delay and expense to all parties and to the court system resulting 17 from multiple trials of the same complex factual issues. By contrast, the 18 conduct of this action as a class action, with respect to some or all of the 19 issues presented herein, presents fewer management difficulties, conserves the 20 resources of the parties and of the court system, and protects the rights of each 21 Class member.

22 30. [Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(1)(A)] The prosecution of separate actions by 23 thousands of individual Class members would create the risk of inconsistent 24 or varying adjudications with respect to, among other things, the need for and 25 the nature of proper notice which Defendants must provide to all Class 26 members.

27 31. [Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(1)(B)] The prosecution of separate actions by 28 individual class members would create a risk of adjudications with respect to 1 them that would, as a practical matter, be dispositive of the interests of the 2 other Class members not parties to such adjudications or that would 3 substantially impair or impede the ability of such non-party Class members to 4 protect their interests.

5 32. [Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2)] Defendants have acted or refused to act in respects 6 generally applicable to the Class, thereby making appropriate final and 7 injunctive relief with regard to the members of the Class as a whole.

act or practice as well as “unfair, deceptive, untrue or misleading advertising.” Defendants violated Section 17200 et seq. by representing on its website that the product being purchased was

40. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants’ illegal business practices, Plaintiff and the members of the Class have suffered injury and have lost money or property.

41. The illegal business practices described herein present a continuing threat to Plaintiff, the Class and members of the public in that Defendants persist and continue to engage in these practices, and will not cease doing so unless and until forced to do so by this Court. 17 49. This implied warranty was also breached by Defendants because they failed 18 to warn customers in any way that such behavior could occur and that 19 Plaintiff and the members of the putative class would be required to buy 20 additional products, such as the "bumper," in order to cure such defect.

21 50. Plaintiff, and every member of the classes alleged herein, have been similarly
